- an internship for final dissertation 20 CFU (500 hours): for this internship you have to choose between internship in Italy or abroad, and insert the chosen activity in your study plan

When can I start internship?

2. You can start internship for final dissertation after the payment of 2nd year enrollment and after having inserted the chosen internship in your study plan: <https://corsi.unibo.it/2cycle/AdvancedCosmeticSciences/preparing-the-study-plan>
3. You can apply on line from SOL Internships: <https://tirocini.unibo.it/tirocini/>
4. The application must be submitted and accepted by the Company, at least 5 working days before the beginning of the internship, in order to check and approve the required documents.

Where can I find the Company/ Host Structure?

On SOL Internships You can consult the list of Host Structures that hold agreements with the University and/or the internship offers already published.

If the Host Structure does not have an agreement with the University yet, an agreement may be stipulated before formally applying for the internship, and, once it has been stipulated, the internship procedure can start.

Can I do both internships in the same Company?

Yes, it is possible, but you have to apply for each of the two in Sol internship (you have to apply twice).

Can I start both internships on the same date?

No, it is necessary that you complete one internship before you can start the next. You can apply for both internships on the same day, but the dates for the starting-ending of each internship need to be indicated so to avoid overlapping between the two internships. Therefore, when you indicate the dates of each internship in your application, you should allow sufficient time to complete the first internship before the planned starting of the second internship.

Can I start an internship before the Internship's Board approves my request?

No, you can start an internship only when you receive an email about the approval online.
