The workshop will take place in the Faculty of Architecture University of Porto, designed by Álvaro Siza, as a paradigmatic casestudy, and will be structured by itineraries, guest talks and thematic critic sessions, with the students organised in 6 mixed groups from all partner organisations, enhancing didactic exchange and experiences.

The workshop set on three moments – recognise, propose and build – will have as main outcome a “souvenir box”, inspired by André Malraux’s Imaginary Museum, that includes, visual interpretations, architectural narrative and a physical model, understood as postcards, kinetic synopsis and totem, respectively.

The portrayed outcomes are interpreted as Grand Tour gifts, memories and didactic lessons.
